SHORTENED TELSTAR

Perhaps you've noticed this edition of Telstar is quite short.

Telstar editor, Tomm Dean, KA2NXY, was taken to Mercy Hospital earlier this month. He spent over a week in a coma, in the Intensive Care Unit.

Tomm has since regained consciousness and been discharged from the hospital. At home, he will still need time to recuperate and regain his strength.

This process, plus the absence of awareness of the first part of August, has prevented him from producing the typical edition of Telstar.
